

Dear Prospective Vendor,

We are so excited about our second annual GraceStory Women's conference this November and would love for you to consider being a part of this wonderful event. Last year we had over 200 women in attendance; and, we fully expect to double that number this year!

We are seeking vendors who will provide a variety of services and/or products that will target women's needs specifically in relation to self-care. This includes everything from consulting, home-based business opportunities, spa services, and ministry promotion for ways our women can serve others!

Our team is looking forward to working with you to create a warm, enlightening and fun weekend for our attendees. The schedule will reflect more targeted time for the Self-Care market in 2020; and, some unique give-away incentives to linger and shop the market more. There are specific benefits to you as you join us in serving the GraceStory women:

- ✦ A concentrated, target-group of attendees
- ✦ Opportunities to obtain e-mail addresses for potential clients
- ✦ A warm friendly environment with one-on-one opportunities to share more about your business and services
